HON. J. C. HODGE
CAPT. J. W. BUSH

TWO PROMINENT SMITHLAND ATTORNEYS EXPIRE SUDDENLY

Mr. Hodge Had Just Returned from Paducah and Was in Rest of Health.

ENTIRE CITY BOWED IN GRIEF

Our neighboring city, Smithland, is sadder today than it has been for many years, on account of the sudden deaths of two of its most prominent citizens, Hon. Jas. C. Hodge and Capt. J. W. Bush, both attorneys of that place, which occurred Wednesday evening, November 14, 1906.

Mr. Hodge went to Paducah Wednesday and on his return trip met his friend Mr. John E. Grayson on the road.

He was talking of his excellent health and said he had always taken good care of himself and could say no reason why a man should not live to be one hundred years old.

When the boat arrived at Smithland Mr. Hodge left it and went to his home, but returned to it on business a few minutes later. While talking he sank to the floor of the boat and in a few minutes passed away. The death occurred about six thirty in the evening and was caused from apoplexy.

Capt. Bush was at home when he was told of the death of his old time friend and colleague in law. He went to bed and brooded over the loss of his friend so that he gradually sank and died at eight o'clock the same evening. The funeral services of both were held at the Methodist church in Smithland and at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. O. Smithson, and the interment took place at the Oak Hill cemetery.

These two men had been the closest of friends during all their natural lives and the tie that held them two hearts together seemed as closely bound that when one passed from this life to the great beyond, the other felt the cord too strongly knotted to be broken, so gave way and went with his life long friend to eternity.

A TALLY HO! HO!

A Merry Crowd Take a Ride to Crittenden Springs.

Geo. Foster is about the article as a driver. So thinks some of Marion's fair men. In bringing this about Mr. Foster harnessed up four of the best horses he had and with the bus from Will Flicklin's hostelry took a tally ho party to Crittenden Springs last Saturday. Those in the party were:

Mrs. Geo. M. Crider, Mrs. W. B. Yandell, Mrs. Fannie Walker, Misses Lena Woods, Ida Woods, Sallie Woods, Maggie Moore, Lillie Cook, Florence Harris, Carolyn Harrin and Nell Walker—eleven in all. There was a chaperone for the widow and one for the eight bachelor maid.

This was a merry crowd. The day was delightful. The slight shower did not mar a thing but afforded amusement for those who did not go mining. Two of the young ladies went mining. When the shower came up they hastily sought shelter in one of the miners' shaft houses. All of a sudden they burst forth in the rain with shrieks and sought other shelter. It was afterward explained that they saw a mouse and their hearts failed.

The party staid at the springs about two hours and returned to Marion. On the back step of the bus little Joe Walker blew his tin horn.

At the conclusion of the trip it was noticed that the whole party in turn bowed slightly, smiled and said a few words to Miss Nell Walker.

Fruit Trees Delivered

J. R. Clark delivered a lot of fruit trees in Marion last Monday. The delivery amounted to $200 and every order was taken and paid for. We feel safe in saying that this is the first fruit tree order delivered here where all the orders were satisfactory and all the deliveries made on the day of delivery.

Mr. Clark represents a good nursery.

Serious Accident

On last Sunday, near Pleasant Hill Church, Mr. George Swansey and Miss Vera Jones happened to a very serious accident.

A procession had formed going from the church to the baptising place, when a horse balked and ran backwards and frightened the horse that Mr. Swansey was driving and turned the buggy over throwing them into a ditch.

No one was hurt very seriously however.

W. H. Mayes' Sale

James F. Flanary and V. E. Doss attended the sale at the residence of the late W. H. Mayes on Tuesday of this week. It was very cold and not many attended. Mr. Doss sold the property.

There were fourteen head of horses and other property in proportion.

Mr. Mayes lived in the Ed Dalton place, and dying leaves an estate of some $10,000 or $7,000, consisting of a farm, saw mill, stock and about $1,000 in Marion Bank.

Mr. Mayes was a brother-in-law of Sheriff Flanary.

J. J. Ainsworth Sells Out

J. J. Ainsworth has sold his interest in the Marion Coal & Transfer Company to his partner, J. S. Ainsworth.

Mr. Ainsworth will continue business at the old stand, his office and studios are near the depot.

This company has always enjoyed a nice patronage and have always been very courteous to the public.

Mr. T. J. Ainsworth has not decided what he will do.

LIGHT PLANT BROKE DOWN

And Darkness Covered The Face Of Marion

The Marion Electric Light Plant broke down last week and Marion was dark Friday and Saturday night of last week, also Sunday and Monday night of this week.

The trouble was located at the bearing of the Dynamo Shaft. It seems that these bearings are made of copper or brass and possibly both. By constant wearing particles of these bearings are worn off and are ground into the shaft. This causes the trouble. These fine particles cause the friction and the bearing immediately gets hot and of course things have to stop.

This same trouble came up once before under the management of Mr. John W. Wilson and he did exactly what was done in this case.

Mr. J. L. Shrode and Gillie Dollar worked faithfully until midnight Saturday night last and then regrettably announced to Mr. Jenkins that they gave it up. He then telephoned for an expert from Evansville who came Sunday.

This expert worked until 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon and then he flew up and announced that he could do no more.

The shafting was therupon taken off and expressed to Evansville Sunday night to The Heilman Machine Works.

The expressage both ways on this piece of machinery was $25.00, adding thus the cost of the expert we have a total of close to $100.00 loss.

The shaft was returned on the 7:00 train, Monday night and the lights came on as usual Tuesday night.

CRITTENDEN COUNTY FAIR

Will Be Given at the Opera House In Marion Nov. 22

A County Fair will be given at the Opera House Tuesday Nov. 22nd, for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church.

The furniture dealers Nunn & Tucker have offered a plush parlor suit to any couple in Crittenden county willing to have the knot tied at the annual county fair.

So far there have been no volunteers but it is hoped some lucky couple will take courage when the time comes.

It has been rumored that our strenuous president and other members of Washington's diplomacy will be there, but this may be an exaggeration, but at any rate we are sure from what we have heard of the fair that it will be simply great.

Thanksgiving Service

Thanksgiving services will be held at Seminary School House, instead of Mt. Zion church, as announced last week. Everybody invited.

MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KY., NOV. 16, 1906.

HAPPENINGS IN THE MINING DISTRICT

A RICH STRIKE MADE BY THE RED HILL MINING COMPANY

John Harpending Has Uncovered a Fine Vein of Spar on the Flanary Tract

OTHER NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

The Red Hill Mining Company, near Lola, in Livingston county, made a rich strike in shaft No. 1 last week. No. 1 shaft is a old shaft sunk some three years ago in what is known as the Mann Dike to a depth of 63 feet, finding some carbonate of zinc but not in paying quantities. It was abandoned until some two weeks ago, when Mr. Horace Overby, the Superintendent, pumped out the water and started levels, one northeast at 42 feet, and one southwest at 37 feet, at nine feet the northeast drift a rich vein of zinc carbonate, width not determined at present, and it only took four feet in the southwest drift to strike a rich vein of calcite and zinc blend "Jack" three and one-half feet wide assaying thirty seven per cent zinc. Mr. Overby deserves great praise for his good judgement. He informs us he will at once begin mining and shipping the carbonate and will start another level at sixty feet to test the "jack" vein at that depth. Besides the shaft work Mr. Overby has something over two hundred feet of tunnel work completed and has on the dump over two hundred and fifty tons of rich zinc dirt and has just completed a set of three log washers with about one hundred and sixty feet of sluice boxes and six settling tanks, in which he will save the very finest slimes. The Red Hill Mining Co. should take of their hats to Mr. Overby, and public, to this company.

The Edwards Mining Company, having finished washing their output of spar for the last three months, have resumed sinking their permanent shaft. This is one of the best timbered shafts in the district and is located between two veins. This mine is under the supervision of Mr. Radcliffe, and to see this shaft, you would say, he is the proper man for the place. Mr. Radcliffe informs us that his shaft is now some sixty feet deep and prospects are good for soon cutting vein number two. His intention is to continue sinking to a depth of eighty feet and then cross cut to a depth of fifteen feet, that will then give him a sixty foot stop. Now take this example: 100 feet each way from shaft—six foot vein—sixty feet of stoping ground—200 pounds of spar to the cubic foot. What's the answer? $8.

The Great Northern Mining and Milling Co.'s mine, the Ada Florence has put on her proper suit of clothes and put them on to stay, says, Mr. John R. Steinman. He says, he likes the color, it has a back ground of lead, with white spots of fluor spar dotted in, very fashionable in this district at present. His shaft is six by eight and 12 feet deep, has both walls bent just about a foot too wide for the shaft, and filled with lead and spar, with eight inches of solid lead, assaying high in silver. Mr. Steinman tells us he is sinking his shaft deeper every day and running a drift at the 100 foot level.

John L. Harpending, at the 30 acre tract four miles west of town on the Marion and Salem road, has opened the Stevens fire clay fault and Evening Star fault, has four feet of vein matter on the Evening Star fault between true walls, the walls coming within six feet of the surface and is now sinking a shaft with prospects good for a large body of ore. This tract is located on two of the best known veins in the district and should be producers and shippers by early spring.

John L. Harpending has opened the Larue and Hurricane veins on the R. E. Flanary 75 acre tract between the Commodore and Crittenden Mining Co.'s mines. It has seventeen feet of vein matter with four feet of spar on the Larue vein at ten feet, this is the same vein that J. M. Persons is minning so much lead and fluor spar from the Glendale and Sellenger properties.

The Keystone Mining Co. have their new shaft forty feet and are erecting the finest sinking plant in the country, preparatory to sinking their shaft 200 feet, where they have twelve feet and nine inches of lead and fluor spar in the old Number one shaft they lost last winter.

"Chap" Blackwell

Tuesday of this week Mr. C. T. Blackwell, of Henderson, a traveling salesman for the large wholesale hardware house of W. W. Itsiekwell & Co., of that city, visited the tracts in Marion.

Mr. Blackwell has been coming to Marion for years in the interest of this house. He is one of the best known traveling men on the road. Mr. Blackwell is regarded in Henderson as one of the best vocalists in that city. In conversation with him he stated that he had been singing in the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal church, of Henderson, for twenty-seven years, this is the church whose choir came to Marion and held services twice in the last few years. They will be remembered by many as will also the singing of Mrs. Taylor in "A Sinner Went up to the Temple to Pray."

For years the choir of this church consisted of four voices and the church enjoyed an enviable reputation for good music.

MONDAY MULE DAY

Layne & Leavell, in Hopkinsville, Again the Buyers

Messrs. Layne & Leavell, of Hopkinsville, came to town again last Monday to buy mules. When they left home there was nothing the matter with their bank account. They were perfectly willing and anxious to buy mules and would have been glad to have bought several car loads. Yet notwithstanding all this they only bought three mules. They bought of J. H. Martin one mule for $100 and Sam Leneave two mules for $400.

There were a lot of people in town Monday, but none that had or cared to sell mules.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF EQUITY

Represented in Marion Monday by T. T. Barrett

The American Society of Equity is an association of tobacco growers of the stemming district. This society has been organized for the purpose of protecting the producers of stemming or export tobacco. They were represented in Marion Monday by Mr. T. T. Barrett, of Henderson, Ky., who is a successful farmer and Vice President and General Manager for Henderson county for the organization.

Mr. Barrett made a speech in the court house to quite a crowd of tobacco growers and was introduced by R. L. Moore in a very pleasant speech in which he complimented the speaker and spoke very highly of the workings of the association. Mr. Barrett is a fine speaker and was listened to with great interest by those present and at the close of his speech was warmly applauded.

It seems that none of the other associations have been able to handle the tobacco in this district known as the stemming or export tobacco and the purpose of this branch of the American Society of Equity is to handle the export or stemming tobacco alone.

Hon. A. H. Cardin

Hon. A. H. Cardin, of View, was in town Monday. Mr. Cardin is one of the oldest tobacco men in this part of the state. His reminiscences along this line are very interesting and a day spent at his fine home at View seven miles south of here is well spent and profitable.

Marriage License

Dollar Woodall to Miss Grace Chenault.

G. H. King to M. E. Arlack.

R. L. Perrin to Iva Lee Hamby.

E. V. Carlton to Miss Addie Neal Cossett.

Woodall-Chenault

Mr. Deifer Woodall and Miss Grace Chenault were married Wednesday, November 14th, at the home of Mrs. Emeline Turk, Rev. J. W. Vaughn officiating.

Mr. Woodall is the son of Mr. W. A. Woodall, of Piney Creek neighborhood, and is an energetic young farmer.

Miss Chenault is the daughter of Rev. R. P. Chenault, of Marion, Ill., but has been making her home with Mrs. Turk for the past year. She is attractive and a splendid christian girl. Immediately after the ceremony they went to Virey Creek to church, there being a protracted meeting in progress. They will make their home at Mr. W. A. Woodall's.

The 14th joins their many friends in wishing them much happiness.

A Pair of Buster Browns.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lowery, of Fredonia, were in Marion last Monday. Mrs. Lowery was formerly Miss Clara Goodloe, and is known to all the Marion people. She has been happily married for a number of years and is the mother of three fine children. One of her boys is an exact likeness of the cartoon boy, Buster Brown.

We know of another Buster Brown boy. Mr. and Mrs. Lawson have entertained this summer their married daughter, Mrs. McAdams. She had with her a young son whose general makeup and complexion, as well as dress, called to mind Outeau's famous cartoon Buster Brown.

These two boys, Lowery and McAdams, are very beautiful children. The Buster Brown resemblance has been noticed by many.

Has Sold His Insurance Business

Mr. Zed Bennett has sold his fire insurance business to Mr. E. L. Flanary and will leave Marion in a few days. He has one of the best positions of any traveling man out of Marion. The Auto Manufacturing Company is a very large concern and employs none but first class men and pays good salaries.

Mr. Bennett thinks he will not be able to get home but twice a year. That being the case he will be missed very much and especially by the members of the Baptist church. Mr. Bennett has been with us only a short time. He is a first class man, good citizen, and a conscientious christian gentleman and the RECORD wishes him well in his new field of labor.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB TO BE REORGANIZED

Will Meet Next Friday Night To Complete The Organization

The Crittenden County Commercial Club met at the court house pursuant to a call of Mr. T. H. Cochran the former president of the organization. Mr. Cochran called the house to order and asked for nominations for temporary chairman and Judge Walter A. Blackburn was elected temporary secretary. Mr. T. H. Cochran then outlined some plans for the future good of the club.

Mesars. T. H. Cochran, Ed Weldon, John Moore and Ed Hayward were then appointed by the chairman as a committee to arrange the by-laws as well as a name for the future business men's club.

Mr. Noble Boston then addressed the meeting, suggesting that each man consider himself a committee of one to try to induce capital to invest money in our town.

The meeting was then addressed by Mr. Jesse Olive suggesting that we are allowing our timber to go out of the county when it might be worked at home.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the court house on Friday night Nov. 16th to complete the organization of the Commercial Club.

A PECULIAR AFFLICTION

Man Loses Sight—Now Being Restored

Mr. Bird Ashley one of our substantial farmers of the eastern part of the county has undergone a very severe affliction. About two weeks ago his eyesight left him and he was then totally blind. In the last few days his sight is being gradually restored and his many friends hope he will fully recover.

Famous Strike Breakers

The most famous strike breakers in the land are Mr. King's New life Pills. When liver and bowels go on strike, they quickly settle the trouble, and the purifying work goes right on. Best cure for constipation, headache and rheumatism. 25¢ at Hayes & Taylor's, druggists.

"The smile that won't come off." That's what you say after witnessing a performance of "An Aristocratic Tramp," the best four act comedy drama on the road, one long laugh for two and a half hours. This attraction is booked for Nov. 16.

MINER GETS MEDAL.

Carnegie Reward of $1,000 Will Pay Mortgage on His Home

WILKES-BARRE, PA.—John Watkins, 21, miner who was buried alive during the coal miners' strike in Pennsylvania, received a $1,000 gold medal from Carnegie. This is the second time in 10 years of the strike of miners in the state which saved the lives of about 1,000 at the hundredfold risk of death. He was not surprised to learn that the medal was to be given him.

There had been an explosion in the No. 4 colliery of the Kispert Coal company. As the workers rushed out of the mine Watkins realized that three men who were in the bottom of the slope where the explosion occurred might be alive. He turned back and calling to his comrades to stand by he rushed down the slope.

The explosion had knocked out the power he said, and the roof was falling. The black damp was gathering and I knew I had to work quick. William Davis was buried head, so was Jim Acciari while House Williams was caught under a car which had been blown on top of him. I could not pull him out. The only way was to lift the car. I tried three times before I could get it up a bit and he managed to wriggle out. Davis I found was dead. Jim was recovered and I was working in the dark now.

C. T. Shattock of 9 Water street, New York, a wealthy Wall Street broker, takes a great interest in his country friend of Watkins, heroism through friends, and was so impressed that he gave Watkins a handsome gold medal himself, and later brought the case to the notice of the Carnegie Hero Fund commission.

The $1,000 which Watkins will get will not pay off the mortgage on his house.

PLAN COLONY IN TEXAS.

Big Tract to Be Settled by Farmers from Europe.

CHICAGO.—A tract of land comprising 10,000 acres has been purchased near Bayou La Batre, Tex., on the Gulf Coast railroad, for the colonization of farmers from France, Belgium, Switzerland and Holland. The land was purchased by A. M. Davidson of Chicago, and the colonists are being sought by his eminence, Mgr. J. R. Viatore, right reverend archbishop and pontiff of the Old Roman Catholic Church in the United States.

The plan of the colonists who make their headquarters in Chicago, is to colonize the tract with people of their own religious faith. Ninety acres have been set aside in the center of the tract and upon this will be erected a monastery and a cloister for the education of priests and for the education of young men for the priesthood. The workshop will be at the head of the monasteries.

In the opinion of those who are engaged on the project, no other land is so fit for the immigrants. It is a fine tract, which in the ages past, one can hardly find in the history of the events of France, large groups of people have been sent aside in the center of the tract and upon this will be erected a monastery and a cloister for the education of priests and for the education of young men for the priesthood. The workshop will be at the head of the monasteries.

Striking Clocks and Billiard Players.

The salesman in the jewelry store was talking of the merits of various wall clocks to a patron and finally pointed out one as a great bargain. "Not for me," interrupted the customer, "that clock strikes and I wouldn't have it as a gift." You're different from the usual run of purchasers; I prefer striking clocks," commented the salesman.

Yet just they don't keep quiet, explained the customer. "I want the clock for my establishment and a striking clock would lose me money. Pool and billiards are tasteless games and players get so absorbed they forget all about time, which they wouldn't do if there was a clock striking regularly. A clock striking every hour in my place would make a hole in the receipts, and I guess a clock that struck half hours would put me out of business. No sir, you don't find a wise poolroom keeper having a striking clock in his place."

Largest Chain Cables.

What are said to be the largest chain cables ever made for ships have been turned out in South Wales. The iron bar used in making the links is three and three-quarters inches in diameter at the smallest part. Each link is about 224 inches long and weighs about 100 pounds.

When tested for strength the breaking stress of 260 tons required by law caused the breaking these gigantic links so plainly elongated that about one-third. With the highest stress that the testing machine could give about 370 tons the links showed no signs of crack or fracture. (Ex post Implement Age.)

Rобеспierre's Change of Heart.

Rобеспierre, of the French revolution, the man who was destined to deluge France with blood, was not long before his frightful career of power began one of the most strenuous opponents of capital punishment. While he was still an obscure advocate at the native Arras he threw up an opposition to this form of penalty. And just when this man was in the ascendancy he boldly incurred the national assembly to prove that the punishment of death is essentially unjust, that it has tendency to repress crimes, and that it multiplies offences much more than it diminishes them.

Clever Trick of Press Gang.

Desperate means were sometimes resorted to in order to get men for British warships. A chronicler writes that in the year 1738 a fleet of ships being required immediately to be mounted, the press gangs placed a hot turkey on the top of the monument, which drawing together a great number of idle people, they had the opportunity of selecting as many men as answered the purpose of their intended scheme. The scene so enraged a citizen that he fired a shot at the bird which occasioned it to fly away. But the scolded had been done.

English Officials in India.

English men out a handful of Englishmen in its civil service to govern the hundreds of natives in India. Says an authority, including military officers in civil employ and others about 1,200 Englishmen are employed in the civil government of 232 million of people and in the parallel control of 62,000,000 more. On the average there are only four members of the ruling race for over a million of its subjects. India is a government of Indians under British direction.

New Water Scoop Tried.

If the experiments are now being made with a new water scoop are success, but it will be possible for boats to sail at the high speed of 10 miles an hour to take water without slackening. The initial experiment made a few days ago was highly successful and it was shown that it was possible for engines on the fast moving trains to be equipped with the device.

HON. E. T. FRANKS

THE CRITTENDEN RECORD respectfully refers the Republican party of Kentucky to Hon. E. T. Franks, of Crittenden county and Owenton, as a logical candidate for the office of Governor.

A man of splendid business ability, a tireless worker, a fine speaker, a harmonizer of factions and a Republican ever, Ed Franks would walk Auditor S. W. Hager down the gang plank in November, 1907, and treat the Democratic standard bearer to a cold plunge.

Ed Franks was born on a farm and received his early training in the school of adversity. He has made the most of his opportunities and not only enjoys distinction in his native state, but is known all over the United States and stands high in the councils of his party.

Crittenden county Republicans would be for him first, last and all the time, and THE CRITTENDEN RECORD too. That would be some start.

Great trees from little acorns grow.

We nominate for Governor of Kentucky, Hon. E. T. Franks, of Owenton, Ky., subject to the action of the Republican party.

Oyster lovers will be out of joint this season. News has been flashed from the Atlantic coast that the price of oysters will be sky high this season, owing to the very limited supply. It is claimed there is not enough to supply the demand. Large oyster packers declare oyster supply was never so short before.

A new Commercial Club or Business Men's Organization has started from the meeting in the court house last Friday night. If we all push we will push something our way.

Some of the members of the church in Marion attended the meeting and listened to a fine discourse.

Rev. J. H. Butler stepped down from the pulpit last Sunday night greeting the various members and others and as he paused by the side of a seat occupied by a local preacher he said, "Is it possible that the Baptists are the only ones with their lamps trimmed and burning." His sermon immediately following to young men was listened to with marked attention.

Rev. Ben Andres preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. He used as a text Romans 3:28 "Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law," and James 2:24, "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified and not by faith only." The subject of his discussion was "Harmony of Faith and Works."

There will be no service at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. J. H. Butler filled the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. The morning lesson was the 39th Psalm. The text was Isaiah 64 part of 6th verse "And we all do fade as a leaf." He compared the fading of the human life with that of the leaves.

The evening text was Luke 7:14, "And he said young man, I say unto thee, arise." The subject was, "Christ's call to young men." He preached two splendid sermons.

Rev. J. F. Price will preach at the C. P. church next Sunday at the usual hours. The theme for the 11 o'clock hour will be "The Revival we need."

William H. Morse Dead

Mr. William H. Morse a highly respected citizen of this city, died at his home Thursday night after an illness of only a few days.

On the 11 November 11th he was stricken with paralysis. It was at first thought that it would not prove fatal, but he gradually grew weaker and weaker until the end came.

Mr. Morse was a Christian man and a member of the M. E. Lodge.

The funeral services were held at the Baptist church Friday afternoon and Saturday Eve. in a casket.

The burial took place at the new cemetery and conducted by the Masons.

The death of Wm. H. Morse which occurred at his home in East Marion Tuesday, Nov. 8, takes from us a good citizen, a faithful and generous friend, a man whose word was as sacred to him as the most solemn obligation.

He was born in Caldwell county, Feb. 2, 1842 and lived there until about ten years ago, then moved to this city. He served four years in Company H 20th Kentucky Regiment, U. S. Vol. Inf., was wounded in the Atlanta campaign and was in the hospital several months at Nashville, Tenn.

He leaves a wife, one son and daughter, Thomas F. Morse, of this city, and Mrs. Mary Blackburn, of Albion, Ill. Our sympathy is with them in their bereavement.

What Others Say About Us:

The following has been clipped from some paper and sent to Marion. We do not know who wrote it or what paper it appeared in originally so we reproduce it here so that our readers may read what others write about us.

"This little city is the capital of Crittenden. For the past few years capitalists have been attracted here by the rich mineral fields. Many investors have had profitable results.

All enterprising, intelligent citizens are alive to the best interest of its progress.

The graded school, with its 150 pupils under the proficient management of Prof. Kee, and his efficient corps of teachers, is the pride of the 2,000 or 3,000 citizens.

Where education is fostered, there prosperity and progress abounds.

The factories and mills give employment to all seeking to make the Biblical maxim a law in evan.

The merchants gain or lose the taste of the most fustions. Two banks are in a thriving, blossoming financial condition.

Enough for the young doctor. Now for the farmer. The oil and gas wells are in a great state of development.

ALL CHILDREN

at birth inherit a predisposition to bodily ills and ailments—more or less serious. The stomach and bowels are the most prolific sources of ill-health.

They are the hotbeds of disease and because less attention is given them, more evil can be traced directly to them than to any other organs of the body.

Where there is the least indication of trouble or you are feeling out of sorts,

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin

should be taken at once.

It is the best preparation for the stomach and bowels.

If they are all out of order, it will eradicate the trouble, tone up the parts and restore them to their natural condition. DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN communicates itself to the whole system and its beneficial and curative effects are pronounced and instantly experienced.

It will keep you in good health. DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes from all druggists.

Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail our new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Write for it today.

To Consumptives.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send three of charge a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption.

Keep Your Nerve

It is nerve energy that runs the organs of your body.

The storage battery is the nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord, and from this battery nerve force is sent out through the system of nerves.

To keep the body healthy you must have plenty of nerve force, if you have not, the organs work imperfectly, the circulation is sluggish, digestion bad, appetite poor, kidneys inactive, and aches, pains and misery are the penalty.

You can keep the system strong with Dr. Miles' Nervine.

It assists in generating nerve energy, it strengthens the nerves and makes the whole system strong and vigorous.

Take one tablet a day, in the morning.

Or Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism. Note remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, not only by growth back to life again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and pains of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a chemist in the city of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Schlosser's Rheumatic Remedy was made—a perfect, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I unsuccessfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism, but now, at last, uniformly cure all curable cases of this hideous, much-dreaded disease. These grand like granular wastes found in rheumatic blood, assimilative and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—incurable disease to suffer longer without help. Well, well, and in confidence recommend

Marion Harland

The celebrated author was so highly esteemed by the woman of America, on pages 103 and 115 of her popular work, "Eva's Daughters; or, Common Sense for Maid, Wife and Mother."

"For the aching back should it be slow in recovering its normal strength—an Alcock's Plaster is an excellent comforter, combining the sensation of the sustained pressure of a strong warm hand with certain qualities developed in the wearing. It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days—in oblique cases, for perhaps a fortnight."

"For pain in the back wear an Alcock's Plaster constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support when the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching insensit."

Some Explanations

The talk I gave at the Sunday School rally at Weston seems to worry some of my friends. If any one does not believe as I do, I have no right to say he is wrong. I give him the right to believe as he chooses. I demand the same privilege from him. The ignorant are usually dogmatic in their beliefs, the college professor seldom, if ever.

"I defy any man to prove that a hog has no soul" has been quoted. The talk itself is bad enough without misrepresentation. Like many young men I sometimes talk from my subject.

Some few scientists believe that all animals capable of development have souls. The hog is subject to slight development. Should I consult my own private opinion, I would say that the hog has no soul, but I cannot prove it.

I made the statement quoted in showing the low condition of some people—never to prove that the public school could do more good than the Sunday School. The woman who will leave her child to go to the saloon and get drunk and remain out all night and when she is sober go home and live in dirt like a hog is but little better than a hog. This is being done in the alum districts of our cities. Some say the difference between such a one and a hog is that a hog has no soul. It was here that I made the statement that no one could prove the hog had no soul. I then stated the woman had a soul which could be saved. So far as the woman is concerned she could do nothing. The force to improve her conditions came from above. Her habits have her tied down. These may be a slight development in the hog, but remaining a hog. The teacher may get hold of a child of this woman and improve his conditions. The next generation a little better and finally the offspring of this woman may reach the twentieth century civilization. The reason I made this statement that has been so severely criticised was that I might show the possibility of development of those who have been neglected.

The public school could do this much to high, and I believe that no American soldier was hit at any distance. Occasionally one could hear the report of a Mauser, and one bullet striking under a mule standing under a tree caused her to jump so high, that a soldier said her name was surely Maud.

Meanwhile Lawton's men were slowly toiling up the trail. Directly under the enemy's cotta (fort) it is a hand trail and weary, the red volcanic granite disintegrated into a sort of porous loam; breaks into ones hand as he endeavors to catch upon the soil and slips under his feet; now the men would grasp some huge root that trailed down the surface of the hill like a vine and pull themselves up through the forest that ran on both sides of the narrow path; again a man would stand upon his comrades shoulders. It was gasping, choking work, and the hot sun meant death to those who did not know how to live.

I did not state in that talk that the woman to whom I referred was no better than a hog.

I do not consider this a reply to those who severely criticised me. I learned long ago that criticism need not kill. I make no reply, I shall leave it to any friend that would enjoy the fun.

"An Aristocratic Tramp" is not like any other play with a tramp title. It will appeal to fathers, mothers, children, sweethearts and wives. It will do you as much good as a sermon. Will be here Nov. 16. Don't forget the vaudeville acts in "An Aristocratic Tramp," seven in number, they are all good ones. This attraction is booked for Nov. 16.

A Soldier's Letter

dear Father, P. L.
Kind Father. I will endeavor to give you an account of the Mt. Dago fight. The narrative is in part as follows: The battle proper began on the afternoon of March 6, 1906, being mainly confined to reconnaissance and artillery work on that day. It was the beginning of the great fight. In the afternoon of March 7th Capt. Lawton's Nineteenth Infantry had lined up and started up the narrow path a third of a mile long, that follows the think of Dago to the precipitous trail that reached the Moro fort on the summit of the crater. One could hardly have believed that out of that number of men, less than two hundred who were stepping off as gaily as if they were going to shoot pigeons, there would be ten killed and thirty-five wounded. At that time I did not realize the nature of this particular expedition, having just got into the camp from Jolo and took up my position with the artillery who were shelling the fort and their riflemen were clearing a path for the advance of Lawton's men up the summit. The artillery consisted of the Twenty-eighth Battalion under Capt. McGlothlin. But the gun which the writer was with was commanded by Lieut. Mack together with Lieut. Powell, of the engineer corps. This gun did remarkable work. It was like target practice; every shot seemed to strike just where aimed by the veteran gunner, Corporal O'Bryan. On the summit of Dago, just in front of the trenches four or five Moros were running, evidently watching Lawton's forces, who had already begun the steep ascent; Mack O'Bryan sighted the gun, the string was pulled and there was a deafening explosion, a huge cloud of smoke rose and there was one less Moro. Without the work of the artillery who incessantly threw shrapnel to the heights above, the fight would not have been won as soon as it was. The Moros gathered on hundreds of surrounding hills, and having been encouraged, and made a flank attack on the Americans and annihilated them. The shrapnel bursting above their trenches killed many of them and destroyed their trenches, and thoroughly demoralized their fighting men. The riflemen kept up a tremendous fire always a little in advance of Lawton's men. Hundreds and hundreds of pounds of lead was fired into the hill, and the sound of the volleys echoed from the crater side like the roar of thunder.

Mack and his men displayed great bravery under the fire of the Moro snipers. The Moros possessed some good rifles and were able to carry to the position of the artillery and riflemen.

As a rule the Moros aimed much to high, and I believe that no American soldier was hit at any distance. Occasionally one could hear the report of a Mauser, and one bullet striking under a mule standing under a tree caused her to jump so high, that a soldier said her name was surely Maud.

Meanwhile Lawton's men were slowly toiling up the trail. Directly under the enemy's cotta (fort) it is a hand trail and weary, the red volcanic granite disintegrated into a sort of porous loam; breaks into ones hand as he endeavors to catch upon the soil and slips under his feet; now the men would grasp some huge root that trailed down the surface of the hill like a vine and pull themselves up through the forest that ran on both sides of the narrow path; again a man would stand upon his comrades shoulders. It was gasping, choking work, and the hot sun meant death to those who did not know how to live.

I did not state in that talk that the woman to whom I referred was no better than a hog.

I do not consider this a reply to those who severely criticised me. I learned long ago that criticism need not kill. I make no reply, I shall leave it to any friend that would enjoy the fun.

suddenly burst from behind threatening clouds. If a man showed himself for a moment upon the bare red and yellow path he was at once beaten by the rifle fire of the Moro snipers.

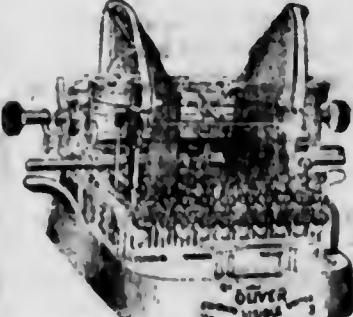

Lawton's advance was headed by Capt. Wetherhill and Lieut. Cecil Wetherhill, the son of the brave captain who gave up his life at San Juan hill, being in advance of the rest of the column to open the attack on the enemy's cotta. The men knew the trail. The day before Capt. Wetherhill had made a reconnoitering trip climbing and creeping within twenty yards of the Moro trenches. All at once a Moro discovered him and ran to cut him down, but the malay was shot by a sergeant and fortunately from the Moro fire drawn by the shot the captain retreated in safety. The Americans knew their trail, had their plans made and all things together. It was a fight of American brawn against Malay sinew, American intelligence against native cunning and the Anglo-Saxon won against the savage. When Capt. Lawton's men were within forty or fifty yards of the cotta the Moros began a fierce rifle fire. They rolled down great boulders two or three feet in diameter, and a perfect shower of javelins, spears, krissas and barongs shot from the edge of the cotta and down over the hillside. Beneath the Americans struggled in the brush. To the left they cut their ways with Bolos to avoid getting into the great cleared gash before the fort. They fired as best they could, the moment a Moro appeared above the cotta he was fired upon.

Directly in front of the entrenchment say twenty-five or thirty feet, the Moros had built fences with bamboo which opposed a direct charge against the trenches that was dug in the narrow rim of the crater. Looking over in front of the bamboo ones could not see the Moros in the trenches, but the rim of the crater at this point slopes from the right to the left as the Americans faced it, so at the extreme left of the bamboo entanglements one could look up the entire length of the trench. The men worked rapidly to the left and closely to the trenches; they were still concealed in the brush. From their position they could enfilade the entire trench. Two thirds of the men were packed together in the brush below the fort like sardines. They were calm. Those were desperate moments in that cliff-like hillside. They were then probably half an hour working like mad men to mount a Colt's rapid fire gun and prepare for the assault. Fancy that wall rising above them almost fifty feet.

Republican Campaign Text-Book

A departure has been made in the Republican Campaign Text-Book just issued, in that its contents are wholly devoted to live issues, and these are treated in the briefest possible way, yet comprehensively enough to include all necessary facts and figures.

First, there is a general statement of the issues of 1900, followed by a brief review of Republican legislation in general and the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress in particular. The Railroad Rate Law, Pure Food Law, Free Alcohol Law, Employers' Liability Law and the Meat Inspection portion of the Agricultural Appropriation Law are given in full, as is Chairman Tawney's clear explanation of the appropriations.

The Labor question is next fully presented, followed by Representative Watson's exposition of Anti-Trust proceedings. About one hundred pages are given to the Tariff, Agriculture and Manufactures, and the tables showing the various phases of industrial activity. Among other subjects treated under the tariff are Protection and Free Trade, Customs Revenue, Foreign Commerce, Home Market and Internal Trade, Wages and Prices, Export Discounts, Reciprocity, Free Trade, Revision, etc., etc.

Some half hundred tables give official and authoritative figures down to the latest possible date. The work of the president and administration is then briefly presented, the condition and status of the Philippines, the Panama Canal, the Navy, Postal Service, Irrigation, etc., etc.

The President's letter to Representative Watson concludes the work, which has a copious index of over a dozen pages.

Scattered throughout the book are quotations from President Roosevelt and other Republican leaders. Among these is the extract from Senator Hanna's speech where he used the "stand pat" expression, it being the only instance in the Text-Book where the words "stand pat" are used. A page is given to Mr. Bryan and his view, with the comments of the New York World. A so-called "Prosperity Postscript" is added, giving treasury conditions, trade reports, etc., down to August 1.

For the first time in a political campaign, the Text-Book will have a general circulation, as together with other literature, it will be sent on receipt of one dollar by John C. Eversman, Assistant Treasurer, 1133 Broadway, New York.

Piles quickly and positively cured with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. It's made for piles alone—and it does the work surely and with satisfaction. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large Nickel Capped glass jars, etc., sold and guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor.

Prevention, as the name implies, prevent all Cold and Grippe when "taken at the sneeze stage."

Prevention is toothsome candy tablets. Prevention dissipate all colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Prevention is thoroughly safe for children, and effective for adults. Sold and recommended in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes by Haynes & Taylor.
